£140,000 extra bill on complex

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@lindlenews.co.uk

ENGINEERING works on the site of the proposed Honiton Community Complex could cost £140,000.

As previously reported in Pulman's View, Honiton Town Council and East Devon District Council (EDDC) have agreed that the Dowell Street car park in Honiton is the most suitable site for the centre.

However, a site survey has revealed 'soft spots' on the land and these will need to be rectified before construction of the building can begin.

EDDC discussed the situation at a cabinet meeting last Wednesday, and in a report produced by EDDC before the meeting it said: "A new community centre for Honiton has been planned to be constructed on the Dowell Street car park site."

"Site survey work has revealed 'soft spots' on the site for which remedial engineering works will cost £140,000."

"EDDC agreed to its participation in the project on the basis of build and fit out costs of £1,812,000."

Honiton Town Council has informed EDDC that it has reached its borrowing limit for the scheme and any additional costs would put the project beyond its borrowing limit. Instead of EDDC spending an additional £140,000 on the project, district councillors debated a number of alternatives.

These alternatives included:

- Identifying an alternative site
- Fitting out and refurbishing an existing venue in the town
- Redirecting district contributions to the project towards other schemes that will benefit Honiton.

EDDC has also offered Honiton Town Council space at its new headquarters proposed for the Heathpark Industrial Estate.

After the meeting district councillors decided to continue to support the Honiton Community Complex initiative but EDDC will not be increasing its budget to cover the increased cost.

It was also agreed that Richard Cohen, EDDC deputy chief executive, help Honiton Town Council prepare "a robust and feasible business plan" and that EDDC corporate legal and democratic services manager "provide guidance in respect of tendering procedures".

Honiton Town Council was due to discuss the progress of the community complex at a town council meeting held as this newspaper went to press last night (Monday, October 10th).

Police raid finds drugs

HONITON police have carried out a raid at a business unit on Marcus Road, Dunkeswell.

The drugs warrant was executed on Thursday, October 6th.

At the location a cannabis hydroponic set up was found along with 28 plants and a quantity of bagged herbal matter.

A spokesman for Honiton police said: "The male renting the unit is currently on police bail for further enquiries to continue."

"If you have any information about drug use or supplying please get in touch with Honiton police on 101 or you can call Crimestoppers on 0800 555111."

Hallowe'en alternative

AN alternative to trick or treating is set to be held in Honiton on Hallowe'en, Monday, October 31st.

A Saints and Sausages event has been organised by Honiton St Paul's Church and will take place at the Mackarness Hall, High Street.

The event starts at 4pm and runs until 5.30pm and is open to all.

Activities on offer include games, crafts and dancing.

St Paul's children's worker Rose Millard said: "We had so much fun last year with Saints and Sausages with lots of families who wanted an alternative to trick or treating and the darkness associated with Hallowe'en."

Tickets cost £2.50 and are available from the parish office. The ticket includes supper and a goody bag.

Store set to open doors

OTTERY St Mary's new supermarket is set to open its doors to customers tomorrow — Wednesday, October 12th.

After years of planning, construction on the Sainsbury's supermarket in Hind Street began at the start of this year and Glyn Dobson, mayor of Ottery, is due to perform a ribbon cutting ceremony at the store at 9am tomorrow.

For more from the official Sainsbury's opening see next week's Pulman's View.

EDDC civil war: Now cash chief gets a telling off

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

TO avoid conflicts of interest, the head of economy for East Devon District Council (EDDC) and planners should stop giving spontaneous "on-appeal" planning advice.

That is one of the recommendations in a contentious EDDC final report, pulled from the public domain after infuriating planners.

Compiled by the overview and scrutiny committee, the report also says planning officers "would benefit from developing an understanding of ward member local knowledge".

In addition, the report recommends that, where necessary, planners receive training and guidance to "address the issue of poor customer care".

It is also recommended that IT training opportunities are given to councillors.

As previously reported, the 16-page report is the result of the committee's task-and-finish forum, investigating the working relationship between elected councillors and professional planning officers.

The report slated aspects of the planning department and revealed that planning officers didn't routinely inspect completed developments to make sure they complied with agreed plans.

It is understood this is because of a lack of resources.

The final report aimed to "materially improve the working relationship between elected members and officers of council".

But it badly failed to impress planners. The report also accused them of keeping councillors out of the loop for delegated planning applications, and EDDC pulled it from its website.

A total of 10 recommendations are made in the report. One is that the EDDC head of economy, Kate Little, should refrain from offering certain advice unless specifically asked to do so.

Her job description includes maximising council income from services, including planning.

The report's recommendation says: "The head of economy is often required to explain the principal considerations of an argument — either in planning terms or in economic terms. There is at times a conflict of interest and the head of economy is asked to refrain from offering advice unless it is specifically requested."

"It is quite possible that when answering such a request, the head of economy be obliged to proffer both supporting and opposing views."

The concern involves advice on how planning application appeals are likely to turn out, and includes planners too.

The final report says: "The forum did not have an issue with advice being given if asked; their concern was a common reference to 'on appeal' being offered by officers before being asked."

"The forum explained their concern on how that may influence the planning committee and how that may be perceived by the public gallery."

The original plan was for the overview and scrutiny committee to deal with the matter on September 29th and pass the matter to EDDC's cabinet.

But because of the furore, it was decided that some elements of the final report needed to be reviewed in more detail before being passed to cabinet.

Shortly after the decision, a council spokesman said it would not be helpful to comment further for the time being.

Warning after threat to OAP

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

AN Axminster woman has issued a warning about a threatening letter sent to vulnerable people.

Bridget Hillyard said that an elderly family member recently received a letter in English, from Switzerland.

The addressee was unceremoniously informed: "There is a threat hanging over you."

Reference was made to a "dark-haired woman who is working against you in the shadows".

To solve the problem, it was strongly suggested that the recipient should part with bank details and £17, after which a gift of more than £235,000 would be dispatched to the Axminster resident.

Bridget, who informed the police, said: "It rang alarm bells straight away."

"Anyone who has insecurities and fears about their financial situation is vulnerable to these people."

"Basically, they are parasites who feed off vulnerable people's fears and insecurities."

She is asking anyone who has received similar letters to report it to Trading Standards scambusters department.

A spokesperson for scambusters said: "If you have been caught out, try to help others by reporting it to Scambusters at the Office of Fair Trading (08457 224499) or by emailing enquiries@oft.gsi.gov.uk"

"Get your own back and get them on the scams list. You can also write to the OFT, European Enforcement Team, Fleet Bank House, 2-6 Salisbury Square, London, EC4Y 8JX."

"The OFT will not be able to assist you as an individual but they have enforcement powers to act on behalf of a group of consumers to try and prevent this problem recurring."

MP has praise for community spirit of town

◆ MP Neil Parish addressing visitors to the open morning at Axminster Alternative Job Club

TIVERTON and Honiton MP Neil Parish has praised the community spirit in Axminster.

He did so when joining local business people at an Axminster Alternative Job Club open morning on Friday, October 7th.

The job club was set up by Axminster Churches Together to help people in the area get back into employment.

Apart from displaying lists of vacancies, the job club offers practical help with CV-writing, interview techniques and much more.

It is stressed that there is no need to belong to a church. The job club is open to everyone.

During the first 17 months of operation, the job club had a total of 926 visits from 258 people.

The job club is a Government-recognised set up, but remains independent.

After apologising for arriving late, Mr Parish praised the town's community spirit and said: "I think I go to more things in Axminster than I do in any other town in the constituency."

The job club runs from 9.30am-12.30pm each Thursday in the Methodist Hall, Lyme Road, Axminster.

Flat plans for historic house

AN historic Honiton property could be transformed if a planning application is successful.

Plans to build 41 retirement apartments at Holyshute House, Monkton Road, have been submitted to East Devon District Council (EDDC).

If the application is accepted communal facilities and parking spaces will also be created at the site.

The proposal has been submitted by Churchill Retirement Living Ltd.

In a planning document sent to EDDC a spokesman for Planning Issues, the agent for Churchill Retirement Living Ltd, said: "Churchill Retirement Living specialise in the provision of sheltered housing for the elderly and have acquired the application site with the intention of building such a development in Honiton."

A public consultation event looking at the proposal was held in Honiton's Mackarness Hall in July and more than 50 people attended.

The main issues highlighted during the consultation event included an increase in traffic and the extra burden that could be placed on health services in the town.

The Planning Issues spokesman added: "The development proposal will create an attractive development of sheltered housing."

"The building design respects and enhances the character of the area, privacy and outlook of neighbouring properties will not be unduly harmed."

"The sensitive design, appropriate materials and details and high quality landscaping will preserve and enhance the amenity of this part of Honiton."

Bug rug is popular for story time kids

A BUG-INFESTED rug has proved very popular with pupils at Musbury Primary School.

The bug-patterned rug, donated by Axminster and District Lions Club, was recently laid on the infant classroom floor at the school.

Marcia Cook and a number of her fellow club members, including Jamie Love, visited the school on Wednesday, October 5th.

A club statement said: "Story time could be a whole new experience for the children depending on the bug they choose to sit on."

"We thought it was such a clever idea of the teacher - not just will they learn the names of insects, but hopefully it will space the children out naturally when they sit, hopefully avoiding potential disputes."

"Let's hope there are no tears when they don't get their favourite."

"A good life skills lesson in turn taking could follow."

Teacher Caroline Dare said: "The new rug has made such a difference to our infant classroom."

"On the first day, all the children took their shoes off on their own accord just to squish their toes into the thick pile."

"The class is now much brighter and more colourful and the rug is a great play space for the reception children and, of course, everyone now wants to sit nicely on their bug during carpet time."

Crews fight shed blaze

FIRE crews battled for more than two hours to bring an Awliscombe shed blaze under control.

The incident took place at a property in the Nap View area of the village at around 8.30pm on Thursday, October 6th.

Two teams of firefighters from Honiton attended the scene and had to cool two gas cylinders which were stored in the shed.

The crews used breathing apparatus and hosereel jets to deal with the fire.

The cause of the fire is believed to be accidental.

Church hosts charity sale

ST ANDREW'S Church, Chardstock, is organising a charity sale on Saturday, November 5th.

The sale will be held in Chardstock Community Hall and will run from 11am until 2pm.

Items on offer will include cakes, vegetables, preserves and a raffle and tombola will also be available.

Refreshments will be served and all funds will be donated towards the upkeep of the church.

ALWAYS HERE TO HELP

Senior School Information Evening Tuesday 18th October 7.30pm

Since 2009, St John's International School has been adding a Senior School to its long-established prep school. As an IES school, St John's combines the very best traditional British school values with a contemporary, global approach to learning.

On Tuesday 18th October we will be providing information about IGCSEs, the International Baccalaureate philosophy and our programmes of study for years 7 to 11. We will also outline our plans for a Sixth Form in the near future.

We would be delighted to welcome parents and students to attend our Next Steps meeting, meet our staff and find out why St John's offers an exciting, value for money alternative for a contemporary Senior School education.

Police report list of crime for the month

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@indlenews.co.uk

DRINK-DRIVING and criminal damage were among the offences recorded on the Honiton police rural beat in September.

A total of nine crimes took place last month, according to Honiton police.

In Awliscombe, a non-dwelling burglary took place sometime between Friday, September 2nd and Monday, September 5th.

An assault took place at an address in Broadhembury on Monday, September 19th.

Dunkeswell was the scene of five crimes during September.

Three cases of common assault and criminal damage took place at an address in the village on Sunday, September 4th.

On Sunday, September 25th a woman was arrested after trying to obstruct the arrest of another person. Milk was stolen from a property on Friday, September 30th.

One case of criminal damage was recorded in Luppitt on Sunday, September 18th, and a man was arrested for drink-driving in Monkton on Thursday, September 1st.

No offences were recorded in Buckerell, Combe Raleigh, Cotleigh, Gittisham, Offwell, Payhembury, Plymtree, Sheldon, Upottery or Yarcombe.

Anyone with information about any of the offences is asked to contact Honiton police station by calling 101.

Alternatively call Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

College recruits pupils as monitors for school buses

AN east Devon college has recruited a team of Year 11 students to double up as bus monitors.

Twenty-six Axe Valley Community College in Axminster students have been trained by police and deployed on buses serving the college.

Headteacher Martin Smith explained the initiative by saying: "It is vitally important to us that our students feel safe and supported."

"While the bus journey to and from college is an exciting part of the secondary school experience, some of our newest and younger students may feel daunted at times by using the bus service."

"Sometimes buses are late; occasionally buses break down. In events like this we want to make sure that students have someone who could reassure and support them."

Bus monitors wear an armband to clearly denote their role.

College spokesperson Bridget Bennett said: "They also act as a point of contact for members of the public on the public bus services that some students use."

◆ PC Hayley Taylor with bus monitors Alistair Rugg, Charlie Ledger, Harry Prior, Grace Donovan, Georgina Dixon and Jean Delos Santos

"This role will be developed over time so that each bus monitor will have training in road safety, first aid and supporting younger students."

"The vast majority of students feel happy and safe travelling to college."

"Standards of behaviour are very good. We want to make sure that in the event that something does go wrong then someone is there who can quickly provide friendly, effective support."

"PC Hayley Taylor, our local youth intervention officer, and Nichola Feesey of the Devon County Council transport team both support this new initiative."

"We are grateful to PC Taylor for providing initial training."

PC Taylor said: "I was very impressed with how many students had put themselves forward for this role which shows that a true community spirit is alive and kicking amongst today's young people."

Student support manager Pam Tollett is credited with being the initiative's organiser.

No injuries in collision

THOSE involved in an Axminster town centre collision on Wednesday, October 5th escaped injury.

Two police cars and an ambulance were seen in South Street car park at about 11.30am.

A recovery vehicle was also at the scene.

A police spokesperson said a white Peugeot and a white Nissan Micra were involved in the collision.

There were no physical injuries reported, according to police.

Thieves take tipping trailer

AN Ivor Williams tipping trailer was stolen from the Kilmingston area on Monday, October 3rd, between 9.45am and 11.30am.

Police said the trailer has a slight dent on the right rear side.

Anyone with information that might help investigators is asked to call the force switchboard on 101, quoting crime reference KA/11/434.

Opera starlet at restaurant

CHEF Andy Williams is used to taking centre stage in his Steamers restaurant in Beer, but he may have to settle for a supporting role when rising opera singer Chantel makes her first appearance in east Devon later this month.

The 28-year-old from Bristol is the headline act for a "Night at the Opera" at the popular seaside restaurant on Friday, October 21st when the classically-trained mezzo-soprano will present a selection of her repertoire.

"I'm always looking at different innovations for the restaurant and when I recently heard Chantel at a christening party in Weston-super-Mare I was absolutely bowled over," said Williams.

"She has a fantastic voice and reminded me of Katherine Jenkins, so I got in contact with her to see if she was interested in singing at the restaurant.

"We have had the occasional live musical night before but opera is a first and something completely different."

While Williams will concentrate on serving up a classic four-course Italian meal to keep his customers happy, Chantel will keep them entertained with a selection of her favourite tunes.

"Chantel has never sung in a restaurant before so when Andy made the offer she jumped at the opportunity," explained her mother, Sue Chilton, who also handles Chantel's PR.

◆ A DATE at Steamers: Rising opera star Chantel

"She is looking at widening her audience to further her ambitions because her dream is to become a full-time, professional singer.

"A lot of people say that Chantel reminds them of Katherine Jenkins which is very nice, and she does sing some of the same numbers, but Chantel is her own woman and includes a wide range of modern and classical songs, operatic arias and hymns in her set.

"I know she is really looking forward to coming to Beer and it should be a lovely evening."

Tickets for the evening, costing £30, are available from Steamers restaurant on 01297 22922.

Tesco bids for unit to click and collect

PLANS for a click-and-collect unit at the Tesco supermarket in Seaton have been submitted to East Devon District Council (EDDC).

If the application is given the green light, customers will be able to order their shopping online and then collect it from the unit.

In a document sent to EDDC planning department, Jamie Pyper, a senior planner with Signet Planning, the agent acting for Tesco, said: "The click-and-collect facility will allow for customers to order their shopping via Tesco's website, but rather than have the shopping delivered to them direct to their home in a 'dot.com' van, the customer travels to the store and collects the shopping themselves from a dedicated unit in the store's car park.

"Customers' orders are selected by staff within the main store, and then a van transports this across the car park to the click-and-collect facility, which includes a dedicated van loading bay.

"The shopping is then unloaded into the unit, which contains fridges, freezers and storage, and then customers arrive during an allocated time-slot and drive under a canopy connected to the unit, where they collect their shopping."

Mr Pyper added: "The click-and-collect facility will provide two car parking bays for customers, who will arrive at a pre-arranged time and, as such, the unit can effectively operate and will not provide any conflict with existing shopping activities within the wider site. The click-and-collect concept already successfully operates at a number of other Tesco stores throughout the UK."

Inn to host fundraiser

THE Axminster Inn is set to host a fundraising event in aid of Macmillan.

Elijah Wolf and the Howl Open Mic team have joined forces with landlords Carey and Mandy Chant and the event will take place on Sunday, October 23rd.

Mr Wolf said: "Mandy and Carey spoke to me about a charity event at the pub.

"We thought it would be a good idea to just have a really special day, full of live music, good food, a car boot sale, lots of different events through the day to raise money for Macmillan nurses.

"The charity was picked by the family of Henry Watts who was a regular performer at The Axminster Inn."

Doors will open at 3pm and there will also be a car boot sale in the Axminster Inn car park.

Mr Wolf added: "We have a showcase of brilliant local musicians who are all dedicating their time for the cause."

To book a stall in the car boot sale contact the Axminster Inn, Silver Street, Axminster, or call 01297 34947.

Simon Parsons has worked as a plumbing and heating engineer for 22 years and Sam Phillips for 9 years.

Both currently work for Simon's dad, Rodney Parsons under the name of "ANNINGS" but come the end of September when Rodney retires, they are going into partnership to form a new company and will be known as "ANNINGS PLUMBING AND HEATING ENGINEERS LTD". Although the business will have a new title, "ANNINGS" have a long and established name locally.

Sam's grandad, Ivor Anning started as a plumber in 1951 and formed his own company in 1956. Simon's dad, Rodney started working for Ivor in 1966 at the age of 15 and Simon joined as an apprentice in 1989, aged 16. In 1994, Rodney took the business on, renaming it "ANNINGS" and a 16 yr old Sam joined in 2002. Now that Rod is retiring, Simon and Sam are starting the third incarnation of "ANNINGS" 55 years after it originated and they will endeavour to provide the reliable, professional, competitive and personable service that "ANNINGS" as a family run business have always provided.

Firms invited to vie for Jurassic Coast sculptures

BUSINESSES which have made a special contribution to the Jurassic Coast can win one of two prizes up for grabs.

For the second year, the Jurassic Coast Awards is seeking nominations for what is becoming established as an annual event after the inauguration last year.

Sam Rose, Jurassic Coast World Heritage Site team leader, said: "It is now 10 years since the Dorset and East Devon Coast was designated a World Heritage Site.

"Many businesses have put a great deal of effort, time, commitment and enthusiasm into helping to promote, manage and present it.

"I am delighted that the Fine Family Foundation has decided to recognise the contribution that some of these businesses have made through the creation and sponsorship of this award scheme."

The Jurassic Coast Award is for businesses that promote the values of the Dorset and East Devon Coast World Heritage Site and have demonstrated this through their operations.

The business could, for example, be tourism-based, significantly enriching the visitor experience of the Jurassic Coast. It could be a business whose product encapsulates an aspect of the Jurassic Coast and further inspires customers' exploration, understanding and awareness of it.

Or perhaps it could be one that provides a local service, keeping the values of the Jurassic Coast in the community for both residents and visitors.

A spokesman for the team added: "Awards will be presented to two businesses who have made outstanding contributions.

"Each award is an individually sculptured stone cube inscribed on all sides with names of places along the Jurassic Coast and the date, 2011, on top.

"The awards will be designed and created by the lettering artist and sculptor Gary Breeze, with sponsorship from the Fine Family Foundation."

Businesses that would like to enter should go to www.jurassiccoast.com/award and complete the relevant form.

Alternatively, forms can be requested by calling Jurassic Coast award administrator Martin Cooke on 01305 848156 or by emailing HandLmanagement@aol.com

Entry forms should be submitted, together with any supporting information, to arrive no later than Monday, November 7th.

The Jurassic Coast Awards will be presented at the annual Jurassic Coast Seminar on Wednesday, December 14th at Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis.

● The Dorset and East Devon Coast, popularly known as the Jurassic Coast, was declared a World Heritage Site in 2001, based on its unique and spectacular geology.

The layers of rock exposed along the 95 miles of coast between Exmouth in east Devon and Studland in Dorset record 185 million years of Earth history through the Triassic, Jurassic and Cretaceous periods.

The rocks exposed in the cliffs of the Jurassic Coast are gently tilted to the east, meaning the oldest are exposed in the west and as you travel east from Exmouth the layers of rock get progressively younger. This gives us a 'walk through time' that is seen nowhere else in the world. For more information go to www.jurassiccoast.com.

● The Fine Family Foundation is a private trust that supports a range of primarily environmental and arts projects in Dorset and the surrounding area.

The Jurassic Coast Award is the idea of the foundation and is independent of the managing or charitable structures for the Dorset and East Devon Coast World Heritage Site.

The award is being administered by H and L Management.

Bed company's green credentials

A HONITON furniture business has invested in its green credentials.

Peter Betteridge The Bed and Sofa Expert has teamed up with The Furniture Recycling Company and can now offer customers a collection, disposal and recycling service for beds, upholstered furniture and wooden furniture.

Peter Betteridge, of the Honiton business, said: "We have long had the desire to see all used products recycled but there has never been a service provider able to undertake this mammoth task whilst at the same time complying with the raft of legislation that is attached to such a process, until recently."

Emma Betteridge, manager of the Honiton store, added: "We have always offered our customers a waste collection service when we deliver their new bed or furniture and, like us, many have said what a shame it is that it cannot be recycled. We take great delight in informing them that now it can."

Store hopes to boost its festive trade

AN Ottery business owner is returning to his former trade and hopes to boost trade during the Christmas shopping season.

Martin Farrant, of Bay Tree Shoe Repairs, Mill Street, Ottery St Mary, will be making small items of stained glass that will be for sale in the shop in the run up to Christmas.

Mr Farrant was in the stained glass business for more than 20-years before taking on the Ottery business.

He added that he is also available to undertake commissions of stained glass.

In a new initiative Bay Tree Shoe Repairs customers will be able to drop off shoes and keys for cutting at the new Sainsbury's store.

Thank you for caring

EDITOR – A big thank-you from Blesma – the British Limbless Ex-Servicemen's Association – to all the 27 ladies who donated their wool, time and expertise to knitting children's garments for sale in aid of Blesma.

Unfortunately I am unable to continue selling these items at tabletop sales for health reasons. About £300 has been raised so far. The remainder of the items have been collected by Blesma for sale in other areas of the country to help funds.

Kind thanks on bag theft

Also a second donation and flowers after hearing I had my handbag stolen from the Hospiscare shop in South Street, Axminster.

Thanks for your kindness.

Surprise, surprise, East Devon District Council tax grabbers

EDITOR – It came as no surprise to me when I read in Pulman's View on September 27th that EDDC's planning department has "problems".

Anyone who has had contact with them knew this already. This is the planning department that led Sainsbury's up the garden path to believe they stood a chance of getting permission for a store in Seaton.

This is also the department where one ex-employee, now acting as a consultant, told me they didn't even try to get Tesco to replace the swimming pool, gym and youth centre they knocked down because "what would have been the point in asking when there was no-one to run these things in the town?"

But why would they want Seaton to have facilities like this, when they can pack in more houses instead and get more council tax?

Let's not forget this is the planning department that wouldn't even let Tesco submit planning permission for a megastore in Honiton because it would ruin the town centre and was too big. But meanwhile, it's okay for Seaton to have a store three times too big for the population.

With people like this running the area, we all need to pray to whatever God we believe in.

Julia Roebuck

EDITOR – I read with interest and some amusement the front page article in Pulman's View dated September 27th.

Here we were told of a report that had found that a lack of communication and "personality issues" between councillors and east Devon planners had resulted in East Devon district councillors (EDDC) sometimes not being properly consulted on planning applications in their wards or (shock, horror) the perception that their views were ignored. Also councillors had not been updated on application changes.

The report concluded that some phone calls and emails between councillors and east Devon planners had not been replied to or acknowledged.

All I can say, EDDC, on behalf of myself, and I suspect many other residents of Seaton, is: "Welcome to our world."

How does it feel to be a mere mortal?

However, I would like to congratulate those concerned on the outdoor gym. An excellent idea.

A credit to local plumbing passes to the new generation

EDITOR – It is great to have some good news and I'd like to say how pleased I was to read that our well-established plumbing firm, Annings, will carry on after the retirement of Rodney.

The company will continue with the next generation, Rodney's son Simon and Sam, the grandson of the late Ivor who founded the firm.

All the best for a happy retirement to Rodney and my personal thanks for looking after all my plumbing work so well for so many years.

Good luck to Simon and Sam for the future.

I'd also like to mention Just Flowers. When I ordered some artificial flowers they went the second mile by bringing me a lovely selection to choose from. Well done and another plus for Seaton businesses. Also thanks to Pulman's View for their generosity in giving me a Star Letter prize of book vouchers.

Cyclist's rude outburst on village lane

EDITOR – I was crossing the lane in Buckerell when a cyclist appeared from nowhere, cursed me for not walking at the edge of the road and sped on.

I wasn't walking along the road, not crossing it to get to my own house, and the cyclist was going at a fast speed and very quietly, so I didn't actually hear her approach.

If it had been a car it would have had plenty of time to slow down and let me continue crossing, or I would have heard it coming and moved out of the way.

Many of my friends are avid cyclists and I doubt any of them would verbally abuse an innocent pedestrian.

Hopefully, this woman was just a one-off, but here is a reminder to cyclists – when you are cycling at speed through a village or along narrow country lanes, please bear in mind that you may just come across walkers, children, animals and tractors and that it's not the same as in a town – we don't have pavements and we are sometimes known to take things a little slower.

And please don't be rude; it does you absolutely no favours.

Annual meal for members

TUESDAY Club from Yarcombe members visited the Howley Tavern for their annual meal on September 20th.

The next meeting will be held on October 18th when Doreen Parris, Dorothy Miller and Marjorie Short have their evening and Tom Coleman will be introducing members to The Orkney Isles.

Craft club members spent a day out at Westpoint for the annual Stitches exhibition on Thursday, September 22nd.

Meetings take place on Monday afternoons throughout the year and new members with new ideas are heartily welcomed.

There was a great turnout for the harvest festival service, led by the Reverend Alastair McCollum at Yarcombe Baptist Church.

Maggie's Men showed their versatility switching from sea shanties to hymns, and wowed the congregation with their solos. Maggie Lane played the organ and Thelma Clarke introduced the evening, which was followed by harvest supper in the schoolroom and thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Chile slides

THE September meeting of the Honiton Afternoon Women's Institute is when members organise the afternoon's programme.

This year Sue Horswood gave an illustrated talk on her recent visit to Chile.

It was most interesting to hear about the national parks and to see slides.

The talk was very well received by all the members present.

◆ NEIL Parish with some of Hemyock Men at their breakfast at the Catherine Wheel pub

MP's witty breakfast talk for men's group

LOCAL MP Neil Parish spoke with conviction, candour and wit when he addressed Hemyock Men at their recent breakfast.

Around 50 men heard insights on the workings of the 'House' before Neil took questions from the group on a wide range of topics including the economy and the environment, Afghanistan and the EU.

His pithy responses were drawn from his wide experience as a farmer, county councillor, MEP and recently elected Conservative MP.

Hemyock Men's coordinator Steven Reed said: "one felt that here was a genuinely local representative of the people, who did not peddle populist answers to major issues but faced them with realism, experience and optimism".

The next breakfast will be on Saturday, October 22nd when John Wilson, pastor of Lyon Baptist Church in France, will speak. This will also be Steven Reed's last event as its coordinator.

country scene

Written by countryside correspondent

TONY JACKSON

Eerie sound of woodland stags

TO anyone who has not heard it and who is, perhaps, not over-familiar with the wild life of the countryside, the high-pitched piercing whistle of a rutting sika stag, echoing through dark woodland at dusk, may cause a few palpitations.

It is an eerie, strange sound, far removed from the roar of a red stag or the groan of a fallow buck, and at this time of the year, with the sika rut at its height, can prove a source of alarm to the unknowing.

A few evenings ago, sitting in a high seat close to woodland south-east of Dorchester, I heard the strange whistle of a rutting stag, calling amidst the dark forest in front, and then spotted a sika pricket, its head adorned only with single spikes, as it dashed from the cover of the trees as though in panic.

Perhaps it had had a brief encounter with a rutting stag, a beast not to be taken lightly at this time of the year. Sika stags have been known to attack humans during the rut and, to the unknowing, can be dangerous.

From stags to birds! A first migrating osprey has been seen over the Axe estuary, and a host of unusual waders have been spotted, including three Sabine's gulls and a grey phalarope at Exmouth down the coast, and a semi-palmated sandpiper on Black Hole Marsh at Seaton, a bird which breeds in Canada and Alaska and winters in the southern states of America; wheatears have also been spotted and a red-throated diver by the yacht club. Apparently there has also been an influx of American waders in the Scilly Isles.

Closer to home, my resident sparrowhawk still turns up most early mornings to perch on the aviary, to its frustration and the inhabitants' terror! However, the immature cock bird has now found an easier source of food, a neighbour's bird table which is in the open and away from any cover, so enabling the hawk to swoop in for a swift kill.

My bird table is half concealed under thick cover and has suffered no attacks despite the fact that my feeders attract dozens of sparrows and little else. Blue and great tits are now rarely seen, while goldfinches have deserted my niger filled feeder in front of my office window.

Do you realise that over 70 million sharks are killed annually, mostly just for their fins and, as a result, the species is in severe trouble and one of the most threatened creatures worldwide. To promote their conservation and to try to re-brand their image, European Shark Week is being held from October 15th to 23rd and the Dorset Wildlife Trust Shark Week event will include a free sand-sculpting competition on the 22nd from 11am to 3pm on the beach beside Bournemouth Pier, and a shark day for young volunteers (13-25) to find out more about shark biology, research and conservation issues.

Booking is essential for this event and for more information contact Marc Smith on 01929 481044 or email kimmeridge@dorsetwildlifetrust.org.uk.

There are over 30 species of shark found in UK waters, including porbeagle, tope, smoothhound, basking shark, thresher and the summer visitors which include the powerful shortfin mako and the blue shark. However, sharks are tainted with the images created by occasional, and usually fatal, attacks of great white sharks in southern waters, whilst the film "Jaws" did not exactly help their image!

Finally, local people and visitors to the Blackdown Hills are being asked to report any sightings of the colourful waxcap fungi, a mushroom which comes in shades of orange, bright pink and red.

It has a shiny appearance and a slimy feel. Once a familiar sight in the area, waxcap fungi have become rarer due to the use of chemical fertilisers.

Lynda speaks on art history

AXMINSTER resident and professional artist Lynda White addressed an audience of 32 Axminster Art Society members and visitors, beginning with a history of watercolour paintings.

Describing the watercolour medium as 'the colloidal suspension of pigment in Gum Arabic' which acts as a binder for the colour pigments, Lynda then proceeded to illustrate the use and development of the techniques by displaying published images in classic textbooks relating to a series of famous artists.

The 18th and 19th centuries were considered to be the golden age of watercolours which changed from merely tinting engravings with differing greys and muted tones to the full blown adventurous dramatic pictures of Turner and those of modern day artists.

The unique attributes of watercolour relate to its lucidity, fluidity and translucence which characterise the paintings and contribute to the complexity of its application.

Planning the execution of a painting is crucial to success as the lightest areas have to be considered first, followed by the gradually darker areas of the picture.

The key difficulty with watercolour as well as managing the water element of the paint is the change in tone that occurs as the applied film dries out much lighter than first applied.

Lynda then proceeded with two practical demonstrations of the mixing and application of watercolour the first being a monochrome exercise in various types of wash, using paint dilutions.

Lynda's second demonstration, undertaken within around 45 minutes, developed into a scene of the coast near Budleigh Salterton, using a palette of colours which tended to exaggerate the effects that she had observed during a coastal walk that she had enjoyed recently.

The resulting picture made a delightful, bright and clean scene which inspired our members yet again to pick up a paint brush and have a go!

The next meeting for Axminster Art Society is on Wednesday, October 19th at 2.15pm in Musbury Village Hall.

The society is holding its annual meeting on Monday, October 17th at 7.30pm. Everyone is welcome.

After the brief formalities are over there will be an opportunity to discuss the 3-D model and other exhibits relating to the Webster's Art Project.

These exhibits will remain in the Old Police Cells until Saturday, November 5th.

Pulman's View from the churches

With NIGEL SPELLER

AS our late but glorious summer continues churches are completing their annual thanksgivings for the harvest.

Just completed include those at St Michael, Colyford, at St Mary, Offwell, and at St Nicholas, Combe Raleigh. At one church rather than receive gifts of produce for distribution, the items were auctioned and proceeds sent to Christian Aid for use in the Horn of Africa.

Around 150,000 campaigners have written to the Prime Minister, asking him to support the right of Christians to express their faith at work.

Four Christians who believe they have suffered discrimination have taken their grievances to the European Court of Human Rights in Strasbourg. Their cases will be heard next month.

The BBC is abandoning the terms BC (before christ) and AD (anno domini – the year of our lord) in favour of BCE (before common era) and CE (common era).

Critics, including the Plain English Campaign, have accused the corporation of political correctness. The broadcaster says the new terms 'do not offend non-Christians', but will not be enforced.

On Saturday, October 15th Honiton Methodist Church is celebrating the second anniversary of the refurbishment of their building with a coffee morning from 10am.

The next week, on Saturday,

October 22nd, it is the turn of Colyton Methodists to hold a coffee morning from 9.30am in the town.

At Seaton the third Saturday of the month, October 15th, brings with it The Freedom Café from 10.30am followed by prayers at 1.45pm. All are welcome.

Figures just released for Planned Giving by Anglicans show that the average per person donation is now more than £10 (£10.06) for the first time, although the total income of parishes has declined due to a fall in money for buildings as well as a drop in one-off donations.

The welcome increase in the figure for regular giving reflects a high level of commitment for support of the work of local parish churches despite difficult times.

Events to celebrate the King James Bible and the Five Alive Mission Community — based in Kilminster covering all six churches in east Devon — are leading with Big Bible week from October 16th to 22nd with events ranging from a Big Puppet Service to a Bible Breakfast-look out for posters or call 01404 8617636.

On Friday, October 28th Axminster Churches Together will be holding a public reading of the bible to celebrate the 400th Anniversary outside the Minster Church from 11am to 3pm.

More changes in east Devon — the Archdeacon of Exeter the Venble Penny Driver moves in December to become Archdeacon of Westmoreland.

Christians on march to raise funds

◆ THE fight against world poverty received a financial boost when the Seaton branch of Christian Aid held its annual sponsored walk. Walk organiser Anita Urquhart said: "The money is still coming in and hasn't been counted yet, but last year's walk raised over £1,000. This is one of many fund-raising events held by the group"

Author feeds imaginations

LOCAL historian, author and classicist Bijan Omrani recently paid a visit to Shute Community Primary School to speak to Class Three pupils.

Bijan, who teaches classics at Westminster School in London, spoke about ancient Greece, which the children have been studying this term.

His talk touched on the Olympics, democracy, philosophy and other legacies of ancient Greece.

Headteacher Amanda Graham said: "Bijan's scholarly understanding of his subject was an inspiration to all the children. He both fed their imaginations and challenged their thinking."

Bijan, who previously taught at Eton, has briefed army officers, journalists and the Foreign Office on aspects of Afghan history.

A Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society, his latest book — Asia Overland: Tales of Travel on the Trans-Siberian and Silk Road — was published in 2010.

Visitors flock to Cleo's art

THE official launch of Pharma's Market, by Cleo Mussi, attracted many visitors to Thelma Hulbert Gallery in Honiton.

Cleo Mussi is from Stroud and gallery bosses describe her work as "inspirational and deceptively thought-provoking".

The exhibition opened on September 24th and runs until November 12th.

Admission is free.

Arson probe after blaze wrecks barn

A DERELICT barn was almost destroyed by fire early on Tuesday, October 4th.

The incident took place just before 12.30am at Seaton Road, Colyford.

A fire crew from Seaton was called to deal with the incident, and a spokesman for the fire service said: "One appliance from Seaton was mobilised after a call reporting flames visible."

"Upon arrival, crews found that a small derelict barn was well alight. Crews used two hose reel jets to extinguish the fire."

Police were also called to the scene, and officers investigating the cause of the blaze believe it could have been started deliberately.

A police spokesman added: "Police and fire officers attended a barn fire near the cemetery in Primrose Way. At this time the incident is being investigated as arson."

"Police are appealing for witnesses or anyone with information about the fire to contact them."

Anyone with information should contact police on 101 quoting log 31 041011.

Village awarded with 'Best Kept'

AN east Devon village has been awarded the runner-up spot in a new section of the Best Kept Village in Devon Competition 2011.

As previously reported Axmouth beat off competition from five other villages and claimed second place in the New Entry category of the competition, which is organised by the Campaign to Protect Rural England and Mole Valley Farmers.

The judges said in their report on Axmouth that they were "especially taken with the delightful condition of Coronation Corner, the church and churchyard, with their areas for wild flowers".

The report also praised the yacht club, calling it "tidy and surprisingly neat for a busy premises where lots of work is going on".

The Ship Inn and The Harbour Inn were described as "excellent and flourishing pubs", and the judges summed up their comments by saying "Axmouth is altogether a delightful village in a lovely location".

Carol Rapley, chairman of Axmouth Parish Council, said she was delighted with the result and added: "Over the past two years our village has become even more precious to us."

"We entered the competition as a new entry and we are really pleased that the judges recognised how special a place Axmouth is."

"The parish council appreciates all the hard work the residents have done to keep the village looking spot-on for everyone, including tourists and visitors to the area."

Coffee event raises funds

A COFFEE morning in aid of the National Trust Axe Valley Centre will take place on Saturday, October 29th.

The event will be held in Colyford Memorial Hall between 10am and 12noon.

A bring-and-buy sale will be held, and items on offer will include home-made cakes and produce, crafts, books and bric-a-brac. A raffle will also be held.

Entrance costs £1, including coffee and biscuits.

Plea for help

COLYTON Town Hall will be the venue for a coffee morning on Saturday, October 22nd.

The event will run from 9.30am until 11.30am and stalls will be selling cakes, marmalade, gifts, books, CDs and DVDs. A raffle will also be held.

Anyone with items that they would like to contribute for the stalls should bring their contributions to the town hall on Friday, October 21st, from 3pm. Alternatively contact 01297 553340.

Medical care

CHARITY group Action Medical Research held a fundraising sale in Ottery St Mary on Saturday, October 8th.

The sale was in The Institute on Yonder Street from 10am until 4.30pm.

Items for sale included bric-a-brac, furniture and clothes.

Refreshments were served and all funds raised were donated to the research charity.

Here's good health for our schools

By ANDERS LARSSON
anderson@findlenews.co.uk

A NUMBER of east Devon schools are among almost 200 in the county to have embarked on a programme designed to inform about and prevent selected health problems.

As part of the Healthy Schools Plus programme, each participating school chose from a subject menu of preventing teenage pregnancy, tackling drug and alcohol misuse, maintaining a healthy weight and promoting physical activity, and improving emotional health and well-being.

Axminster Community Primary School, for example, focused on tackling drug and alcohol misuse.

Branscombe Church of England Primary School focused on emotional health and well-being, healthy eating and physical activity.

Mill Water School in Honiton focused on emotional health and well-being, healthy eating and physical activity.

Over the past two years NHS Devon gave each participating school £2,000 to run a creative health initiative as part of the programme.

Ingrid Edginton, a teacher at Axminster Primary School, said: "As part of the Healthy Schools Plus initiative we have set up a programme to educate our pupils on the dangers of drugs and alcohol."

"Children in our target group say they now have a greater understanding of consequences of drug and alcohol misuse and know what is meant by peer pressure."

In total 187 schools in Devon participated and NHS Devon recently held a special celebration event for schools whose work was graded as "outstanding".

They all received certificates in recognition of their achievements.

Dr Virginia Pearson, NHS Devon's director of public health, congratulated the schools on their success.

She said: "We want to ensure children across Devon get the best possible healthcare to meet their needs so I congratulate all the schools that took part in this programme."

"Schools will now build on the experience and good practice they gained during the programme so they can continue to improve the health of their children."

County councillor Andrea Davis added: "Our healthy schools initiative has achieved incredible success, not only in addressing more immediate health-related risks but also in providing a lifelong understanding of the benefits of healthy eating, exercise and emotional well-being.

"Areas where incomes are lower are more prone to health problems and a lower mortality rate, and targeting communities in these areas should lead to greater health equality across the county."

Inspiring treasure trove with shoes, clothing and so much more!

OPPOSITE St Paul's Church in the centre of Honiton you will find Beauchamp Place.

Its modest shop front belying the abundant treasures you will find inside. New customers are always amazed by the choice and variety of labels and accessories. Indeed many of Mandy's regulars are not always locals!

As Beauchamp Place begins its 22nd year of trading, Mandy will not let the grass grow under her feet and scours international clothes shows for new ranges and inspiration.

A great range of shoes, boots, scarves, handbags, lots of jewellery can be found and an extensive range of hats are available to hire for that special occasion too.

Mandy, Ann, Sue and Gill are always on hand to help and a great alteration service is available, whilst you browse there is even a sofa for husbands making for a relaxed shopping experience for everyone. Beauchamp Place is open Monday to Friday 9.30am to 5.00pm and stocks sizes 10 to 20. Come and visit us and be astonished by the variety!

Slimming World is Plenty more in store at Encore about more than just losing weight!

SINCE 1969 Slimming World has been dedicated to helping people lose weight, improve their health and wellbeing, and lead happier, healthier lives.

Way ahead of her time, founder Margaret Miles-Bramwell recognised that being overweight carries a double burden. There is the weight itself and then there is the burden of guilt, self-criticism and low self-esteem.

Margaret knew that for long-term success slimmers need to feel good about themselves and take control of their own lives. She believes that slimmers should have the opportunity to make their own choices, so that they can take responsibility and gain satisfaction from the improvements they achieve.

With 7,750 groups set in the heart of local communities and over 400,000 members attending each week, Slimming World's success is based around the three pillars of nutrition (Food Optimising), behaviour change techniques based on a deep understanding of the psychology of overweight people (Image Therapy) and activity (Body Magic). The company continues to invest in research and best practice to ensure the highest level of service to its members.

The Honiton Slimming World class is held at The Honiton Baptist Church in the High Street Tuesdays @ 7.00pm, Wednesdays @ 9.30am & 11.30am. For more details and to start your weight loss journey contact Sharon on 07963 337178.

BELIEVED to be the largest dress agency in the south west, Encore has been selling good as new and new clothes long before recycling became a focus and a fashion, for well over twenty years.

With two floors and over four rooms Encore is an aladdin cave of gorgeous clothes boasting labels like Gucci, Yves St Laurent, Guess, as well as well known high street brands.

Felicia carefully selects clothes that are of the highest quality and clothes come from all round the world.

Browsing is a must for those who are interested in beautiful clothes so why not pop in today to find that unique item of clothing which will dazzle your friends and family.

Course celebrates legend Best Mate

BEST Mate Novice Chase Day at Exeter Racecourse on Tuesday, October 18th celebrates the course's association with the three-times Cheltenham Gold Cup winner whose jumps career was launched at the Devon track.

With a race named after the endearing champion, which usually attracts some of the top young novices in training, the course is also offering those who bring their best friends — who are new to racing — two for one entry.

It's also student free entry day at the course, the first of two days aimed at encouraging students in the region to come racing.

The Best Mate Limited Novices' Handicap has proved a nurturing ground for jump racing stars. The 2009 winner Tataniano went on to win the grade one Maghull Novices' Chase at Aintree, beating the 2010 Arkle second Osana in the process.

Last year Triumph Hurdle winner Celestial Halo made his eagerly anticipated jumps debut and was a long odds on favourite to win until falling four fences from home.

Novice hurdlers will also be out in force and one superstar to emerge last season was Dunraven Storm. His season was curtailed by injury but he looks sure to be a horse to follow this year.

Other races on the card include an amateur riders' novice hurdle, a handicap hurdle, a handicap chase worth £9,000 sponsored by Bathwick Tyres and a three-mile beginners' steeple chase.

There is a free bus to and from the racecourse from Exeter's St David's and Central train stations and children aged 17 and under go free.

To take advantage of the two for one Best Mate offer, call the call ticket hotline 0844 5793005 and quote BMATE11.

Terms and conditions apply.

For more information visit Exeter-racecourse.co.uk or call 01392 832599.

Cabaret time in aid of local groups

FRIDAY, October 21st is cabaret time in aid of Axminster counselling service ARC and Axminster Memory Cafe.

Memory cafe co-ordinator Peter Smart will host the show under his stage name, Daley Knight.

The cabaret starts at 7.30pm in Axminster Guildhall.

Mr Smart began his showbiz career as a Butlins Redcoat in the late 1970s, and he will be joined on stage by Clive Smith and his Dixielanders.

Peter will sing a song with the Dixielanders totally unrehearsed, for which he is seeking sponsorship. "It should be very interesting," he said.

Also performing on the night will be Kroft Originals along with other acts to be confirmed.

Tickets are £7.50 — to include a buffet — and are available from Archway Bookshop in Axminster.

Tickets on the door will be £8.

The memory cafe is also on the lookout for a new co-ordinator as Mr Smart will step down at the end of the year.

Anyone interested in taking on the role or sponsor the unrehearsed song can call Peter on 01297 35144 for more information.

THE DEBT (15)

JOHN Madden directs a gripping English-language remake of the Israeli film Ha-Hov about three retired Mossad agents, who come face to face with the spectres of the past.

Tightly scripted by Matthew Vaughn, Jane Goldman and Peter Straughan, The Debt is a political thriller that cranks up the tension and elegantly conceals plot twists by cutting back and forth between events in 1966 and 1997.

On the whole, Madden abides by convention but he occasionally wrong-foots us, including a jaw-dropping shock in the opening 10 minutes that sparks nagging doubts about the life expectancy of the lead characters.

The casualties of war are high and star billing offers scant protection from an inglorious early exit.

In Tel Aviv, 1997, Sarah Singer (Romi Aboulafia) proudly unveils a book about her brave mother Rachel (Helen Mirren), father Stephan (Tom Wilkinson) and fellow Mossad operative David Peretz (Ciaran Hinds), who were despatched to East Berlin in 1966 to hunt down Nazi war criminal Dieter Vogel (Jesper Christensen).

Through interviews with the people who were there, Sarah has penned a vivid account of the trio's exploits behind enemy lines and their remarkable determination to bring Vogel to justice.

Confronted with this written account of the 1966 mission to capture Vogel, who conducted horrific experiments on Jews, Rachel recalls the past with shame and despair.

In flashback, we witness Rachel (Jessica Chastain) arrive in the divided capital where she poses as the infertile wife of David (Sam Worthington) to secure a consultation with gynaecologist Vogel.

Stephan (Marton Csokas) conceives the daring plan to kidnap 'the Surgeon of Birkenau' from his practice and smuggle his heavily drugged body across the border on a night time train.

However, Vogel is no pushover.

The Debt holds our attention in a vice-like grip, anchored by strong performances from the two ensemble casts.

Madden directs the set pieces with aplomb including a perfectly timed escape from the doctor's surgery.

Screen chemistry between Chastain and Worthington sizzles and Mirren commands attention in later sequences, capturing the despair of a woman who has been looking over her shoulder, waiting for the truth to catch up with her.

There are a few plot holes, not least the remarkable sprightliness and vigour of Vogel in the latter sequences.

He is already an old man in the 1960s so when the narrative jumps forward three decades, the diabolical old coot must be fast approaching his 90th birthday, yet he still possesses astounding strength and agility.

We forgive Madden's film the odd indiscretion because the characters certainly don't forgive themselves, haunted by Stephan's assertion that, "Truth is a luxury. Some people have to put other things first: their family, their country."

QR Codes are coming to a For Sale Board near You!

Article by Morphsites and Gordon & Rumsby

Gordon and Rumsby are in the process of launching QR code technology on For Sale Boards and in newspaper advertising as we feel this is an important technological advance in the industry that cannot be ignored. We will be one of the first estate agents in the Lyme Bay area to use it. With the majority of home buyers beginning their search on the internet these days, we have already adapted our website to work with smart phones and this is the next step. We are sure there will be many more! The last few years has seen a dramatic increase in the use of both smartphones and mobile internet. According to Ofcom and the Office for National Statistics, nearly 1 in 3 adults now own a smartphone and 45% of us now use the web while we're out and about. That trend is expected to increase - by 2014 it is predicted more of us will access internet based services on our phones and other mobile devices than on our PCs at home! That isn't really surprising when you consider that the increase in such technologies as QR codes and mobile websites provide users with access to the exact content they are interested in almost instantly, providing a every individual with a tailored experience. Seeing a "For Sale" sign outside a property you like the look of and being able to instantly access all the key details for that the property is a great example of this tailored experience and brings sellers and buyers together much more effectively. The use of QR codes in Japan and the US is ubiquitous across many industries, and we expect the same thing to happen in the UK over the next 12 months. The possibilities in the use of QR codes are endless, and offer all businesses and organisations the opportunity to develop innovative ways to use them in order to reach their target audiences more effectively. Pete Fairburn from Morphsites, who are providing the QR code system, said: "We are delighted to be working with Gordon & Rumsby in rolling out this exciting technology in the area and believe it will lead to bringing sellers and buyers together much more effectively."

What is a "QR Code"?

A QR or Quick Response, code is a type of barcode design to be read by a smartphone at high speed. Different information can be encoded into the code, including web addresses, text and contact details.

A typical use would be a link in the code to a mobile website, allowing a user to access information or special offers comfortably on a smaller screen size, wherever they are. Most smartphones will need to have a free app downloaded in order to read these codes presently. It is expected the next generation of smartphones will include QR code reading as standard.

How do I scan one?

Once you have a QR code app downloaded, simply start the app and point it at a QR code - the phone should do the rest!

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS

Saturday night out in the capital... in running shoes

THINK of 420 people in the centre of London doing a 2.5-hour running event on a Saturday night. But it's not as simple as that.

There are 25 stations dotted around the area and you need to go to as many as you can within the time limit.

All you are given is a London A-Z and a list of checkpoints and then the route is up to you. At most checkpoints you have to complete a task, either physical, mental or humorous.

This year Woodroffe School pupils Josh Turner (Honiton Running Club) and Andrew Watson (Axe Valley Runners), both 16, were just old enough to enter the race.

The race started at 5pm at Tower Bridge. Andrew and Josh got ahead at the start of the race. They got the sheet which allocated points to the stations and then did a quick U-turn and headed in the opposite direction to nearly all the other teams.

This was of course their plan and it paid off because after 10 hard minutes of running they made it first to the Parkour station and got valuable points. They then proceeded via checkpoints to Buckingham Palace and The Mall.

After this came a particular low point for the team. They had gone to one of the furthest checkpoints and it was a traverse climb across an indoor wall. It was just too hard and they failed.

This meant they came away empty-handed and this played on their mind for the next few legs. But Josh as ever looked on the bright side; they weren't the only team to fail on the wall, only one out of four teams had succeeded before them.

They proceeded to 13 checkpoints, which included being a car in a car wash, singing karaoke (which didn't go very well), making their way blindfolded through the London Bombing memorial in Hyde Park and doing an extreme urban workout. In total the boys clocked up about 15 miles and a score of 241 points which put them 49th out of 170 teams.

● A 50-mile, coast-to-coast run was completed by four Axe Valley Runners recently.

This was the second long-distance run by the four "Legbenders" — Garry Perratt, Dave Kelf, Alan Dearling and Phil Bayliss.

The route from Quantox to Seaton was divided into 16 legs of about three miles each.

There was a steep climb from the coast over the Quantocks, then through woods and valleys to Taunton, over the Blackdown Hills, skirting Membury and on to Seaton. On some legs there was just one runner, on others all four ran. Despite this careful planning, the course was fiddly, making the route hard to find at times.

Garry completed 36 miles, Phil 31, Dave 20 and Alan 16.

● Luke Reed went to Portland for the Olympic distance "Race To The Bill" Triathlon.

The race started with a 1500m sea swim which Luke finished in 27.37, coming out of the water in 18th place. Then a 40km bike ride, which Luke finished the bike section in 1.12.33 putting him up to eighth place. Finally came the 10km run, where Luke lost only one place, giving him an overall time of 2.23.42 and ninth place.

Bowlers get going in the great indoors

AXMINSTER Indoor Bowls Club are into the new season with all the internal leagues now underway.

The club has got off to a good start with two home mixed friendly wins.

First the club narrowly beat Dunkswell (64-60) with a winning rink of David Harris, Ann Clayton, Marion Harris, and Sheila Martin (27-10) before beating Honiton (63-58) with success for Phil White, Alison Glyde, Marion Harris, and Eric Skeemer (25-16) and David Harris, Pam Hunter, Chris Todd, and Bob Sherborne (23-11).

Unfortunately, the ladies lost their friendly match at Sidmouth (41-65) with their best efforts coming from Chris Todd, Barbara Mowatt, Alison Glyde, and Ann Clayton who tied 20-20.

New members are always welcome, with coaching available on Tuesday evenings from 6.30pm-8.30pm.

Anyone interested should call Cloakham on 01297 34447 or David on 01297 34175.

HONITON GOLF CLUB

Close at top after round one of cup

THE club played round one of the Marker Cup, a trophy decided over 36 holes played over two consecutive weekends.

There are separate prizes for the best players in each division on the day, but the cup will go to the player with the lowest 36-hole net. The best finishing positions after round 1 were, in division one, 1 Graham Birch, 65, Paul Coates, 70 along with Keith Lloyd 70.

Division two has Dean Bonetta, 66, Steve Charlton, 69, and Richard Townsend, 71. It looks as if there is still all to play for.

Tuesday Mixed

The Treble Six competition is a good mix of different golfing formats.

The winning couple, with 38pts on countback, were Rosemary Whiteley and Paul Ritchie. In second place, also 38pts just losing out on countback, were Jan Dickinson and Alfie Ford.

In third place were Jennifer Pyle and Roger Pincombe, with 36pts, and fourth place went to Joy Kerr and Terry Lindsdell, with 34pts on count back.

HONITON HOCKEY

Ladies put four past young Exe side

THIS weekend's match, the second of the new league season, proved a successful one for Honiton, who were playing an away fixture in Exeter against a predominantly young side.

But although young, the players were very skilled and played excellent hockey, particularly in the midfield areas, but just lost out when play moved into the circle.

It was very much against the run of play in the first half, after about 15 minutes, that the first goal was scored by the visitors when Jean Herniman, neatly evading an Exe defender approaching her, swept the ball across the circle to Vanessa Trude who smartly found the backboard. Not long afterwards, Sophie George shot the ball across the circle towards the goal and the ball was deflected into the net by a defender.

In the second half the home side continued to push hard to open their scorecard, and this effort was soon rewarded when Exe brought the scoreline to 1-2.

But this was swiftly altered when a

Senior Section

"Same Old Faces" is frequently the cry at prize presentation time. Not this time, as Seniors new boy Andy Sharland took the honours in the stableford competition with a very steady 37 points.

Following up in division one were "old boys" Jim Wallis, Stan Squire and Malcolm Matthews, all on 35 points, with Mike Kent grabbing the last prize position on countback with 33 points.

In division two, John Vessey took first spot with 36 points, followed by Chris Chalker on 35 points, Rob Canterbury and Bob Underwood, 34 points, and Rob Sexton, 33 points.

Ladies Section

The first October weekend medal was won by Elizabeth Ward, with a net score of 79, who also got first place (silver division) in the medal competition played on Wednesday, October 5th.

Also on October 5th, second place in silver division went to June Hodge with a net 75.

In bronze 2 division, Babs Knight took the honours with a nett 76, while Monica Lacey was second with a net 80.

upcoming matches, although there were heavy double-figure losses entertained by at least three clubs in the league this weekend.

Nonetheless, Honiton are currently third in the league.

Player of the Match was Sue Stone. Practices continue to be held on Tuesday evenings at Cullompton Sports Centre from 7 pm-8.30 pm.

Meet in Honiton at the Sports Centre car park at 6.30 pm if a lift is required. Contact details available at www.wcwhi.co.uk/Public/Clubs.php

LYME REGIS GOLF CLUB

Seniors' Section

THE early morning fog over the course cleared to allow glimpses of bright sunshine and then closed in again to the point where it was "touch and go" whether the course would remain open.

Fortunately, the decision was made to allow play to continue and the seniors' section successfully completed their pre-AGM Greensome golf competition.

With the greens still in excellent condition and the fairways still damp from the early-morning dew, 26 players took to the course in a shotgun start at 8.30.

While some of the scores carded were, perhaps, a reflection of the early start, there were a significant number of well below net par scores.

In particular, outgoing chairman of seniors, Adrian Wells, partnered by Steve Percival, found tremendous form off the tee to enable the pair to record an excellent net 66.

Their playing partners, incoming chairman Tony Johnstone and Tony Wakling, recorded an excellent net 67.

However, neither score was good enough to win a prize.

In particular, Graham Winter (22) and John Gannaway (25) ran out convincing winners with an outstanding net 62.5.

In second place were Tim Sansom (22) and Brian Ridley (17) with a net 64.5, narrowly beating Julian Cox (8) and Roger Stokes (15) into third place with a net 65.5.

Junior Stableford

Played in excellent weather and course conditions, the club junior section staged its monthly stableford competition.

As a reflection of the excellent conditions there were some exceptional scores carded.

In first place with 42pts was Kai-To Li, closely followed by a 40pts David Lyon with 40pts and Matt

Watson with 39 points.

October Medal

With weather and course conditions continuing to encourage some excellent golf, the first of the winter series of medal competitions took place.

First in division one with a net 68 was Stuart Wright (14) with Gareth Hedges (2) and Roger Adams (7) in second and third places with a net 69 and 70 respectively.

In division two first on net 68 was 18-handicapper B Deem followed by John Lawrence (19) and Tony Johnstone (19) with a net 69 each.

John just secured second place on countback.

AXE CLIFF GOLF

In the pink for the weekly stableford

Ladies' Section

THE Ladies of Axe Cliff enjoyed an away golfing break at Lostwithiel, returning for the Wednesday Stableford all dressed in pink in aid of the Macmillan Cancer Trust.

Liz Wheelon (25) was the winner with 35 points and in second place Di Rogers (31) with 34.

Seniors' Section

The final home inter-club match of the season took place and the seniors returned to winning form with a 5-1 victory over Taunton Vale.

Successful pairings for Axe Cliff included Rob Grove/Peter Motson; Chris Jowett/Mick Tomes; John Mant/Hugh Willis; Jack Bannister/Bob Graham and Chris Walker with seniors' Captain Peter Knighting.

This win gave Peter the distinction of winning every home match — 12 in total — during his year of captaincy and this achievement allowed him the odd blip in away matches.

The October medal attracted 32 contestants and tricky pin positions made low scoring difficult. Two players returned scores of 72 net and the winner on countback was Malcolm Glass (18) with Phil Christmas (24) having to settle for second place.

Three players returned scores of 73 net and third place, again on countback, went to Bobn Flay (22) with Tony Strong (9) and Norman Bowles (22) the two players to miss out. There were four twos, from Tony Strong, Malcolm Glass, Rob Heard and Gerry Turner.

Main Club

In glorious sunshine the main club competed for the October Medal. Division one winner was Brett Garner (12) with a net 65 and in second place Gareth Richardson (12) with a net 70.

Division two winner was Anthony Hellier (13) with a net 69 and in second place Mike Wickins (13) nett 70.

HONITON RUNNING CLUB

THE club has held its inaugural Cotleigh Canter races.

There were three road events on offer, all run on the quiet country lanes of Cotleigh. Firstly, there was the 5k race, which is a fairly fast route with one reasonable hill.

This was won by 14-year-old Grey Grierson, of Sidmouth Running Club, in a time of 19 minutes 43 seconds. Lucy Owen, also of Sidmouth, was second overall and first lady.

She was followed by Honiton's Henry Riddle in 20:42 with, new to the club, Jack Elsom, in the astonishing time for an 11-year-old of 21:04.

Sam Urquhart seemed to suffer throughout the race but managed sixth place in 23:02. Morgan Davy was surprised and delighted to find herself winning a trophy as second lady in 11th place overall in a time of 28:15 with Samantha Shute, also of Honiton, coming in third lady in 30:05.

Alan Rowe was accompanying Louise Jackson, who was carrying the baton. They finished in 30:15 in 13th place. Jake Harvey finished in eighth place in 25:12. Pat Croucher thought the atmosphere of the race was great with slower runners getting the chance to run with faster 10k runners. She finished 15th in 31:48. There were 19 finishers.

As well as the 5k, there was the 10k which attracted 64 entrants. This consisted of two laps of the 5k route so still had the one hill but twice.

Axe Valley member Alex Todd won the race in 35:39, having thoroughly enjoyed the course. First back for Honiton was Ian Stewart who was fourth overall in 39:41.

Vernon Gillard and Graham Reeves are quite used to running this route as part of their training but usually the other way around. Vernon was eighth in 42:52 with Graham two places behind in 44:04.

Wayne Spiller hasn't been running much recently and was pleased to finish the course without injury coming 30th in 54:20. After having a really good battle on the line, Lin Pike was next back in 33rd place in 55:03. Carol Turner narrowly slipped back a place as she also had a good tussle on the line. She was 51st in 60:23. There were 59 finishers.

Finally, aimed mainly at the younger generation but open to everyone, Honiton RC also put on the 3k Fun Run. Clyst Hydon Primary School won the Alan Rowe Cup and the race was won by Flurry Grierson in 13:20.

First home for Honiton and also first girl was Sasha Davy who had a brilliant race, coming fourth overall in 13:43.

Ed Cannings also had a great race even though he was recovering from chicken pox. He came 11th in 15:30. Hannah Land finished well up the field in 13th place in 15:42.

Jessica Copp was next back coming 35th in 18:08. Ella Harvey also did well to finish just after her coming 37th in 18:14. The fun run was extremely well supported with 55 finishers listed.

Flying Honiton's flag in Cornwall were Kevin Hawker, Heather Foundling-Hawker and Julie Payne.

The Eden Marathon Multi-Terrain Race started and finished at the Eden Project in St Austell.

Kevin Hawker came in fifth man in 2:57 after going through halfway in 1:27. Although suffering a touch of cramp at 19 miles, he got it back together and was pleased with his time.

Kevin is now guaranteed automatic entry to London Marathon for another two years.

HONITON NETBALL

Division One

OPG 25, Wasps 28
Flamingos 43, Updownman 22
Bo-Peeps 34, Hi Q 18

AFTER four weeks there is only one team in the top flight with a 100 per cent record – Flamingos, and one team still looking for their first win – Hi Q.

Flamingos held on to their unbeaten record when they met Updownman. They were in control from the start and by halfway were 24-9 in front, thanks to some great work from Rachel Burrows.

In the last two quarters Updownman began to play better, with Viv Grant once again pulling their strings and they did enough to gain a point from their 22-43 defeat.

League leaders OPG were up against Wasps, and it was the Wasps who had the sting in the tail to end OPG's unbeaten run.

With Sasha Williams in fine form, the Wasps secured a four goal lead at halfway by 14-10. With Kirsty Wackley playing well, OPG came back and, going into the final period, were 19-20 down. In this final quarter it was Wasps who came good again to win by 28-25 to go level on points with OPG.

The final game of the night saw Bo-Peeps up against Hi Q, with both sides looking for a first win.

Unfortunately for Hi Q, they started the game with only five players and by the time they were at full strength the Peeps were 12-2 up. With Poppy Williams playing well at centre, Peeps were 18-4 up at halfway. Gradually Hi

Q got into the game more, thanks to good work from Louise Garman, and they managed to do enough to secure a point from their game, going down by 18-34.

Division Two

Weather G 32, Howden Hks 21
Tip Top Trees 34, Sidmth Tou 22
JD Tyres 22, NAS 19

Weather Girls and Tip Top Trees continued with their unbeaten run, whilst JD Tyres secured their first win of the campaign to jump two places up the table.

The Weather Girls met Howden Hawks and the game started well for the Hawks as they established a 13-11 half time lead, thanks to fine play from Tara Andrews. With Pam Taylor playing well for the Girls, they had good third and final quarters to end the night with a 32-21 win.

Tip Top Trees stayed in second place, thanks to a victory over Sidmouth Toucans who were reduced to six players due to injury in the second quarter. The first quarter was 7-6 to Trees, who then moved ahead to win comfortably by 34-22. Hayley spiller played well for Trees whilst Hannah Strong was the Sidmouth star.

The two sides still without a win – JD Tyres and NAS – met, and JD came out on top, with Amy Phillips having another fine game. At quarter time JD were 6-2 up and their lead was maintained at halfway by 12-8. The third period also belonged to the Tyres as they moved 18-12 in front, only for NAS to stage a fight back in the final quarter and reduce the arrears to 19-22, with a fine defensive performance from Sarah Green.

HONITON JUNIOR RUGBY CLUB

Away win for youngsters

Creditor U-10s 2 Honiton U-10s 6

BUILDING upon last week's encouraging performance, Honiton U-10s won away at Creditor.

The game started with the Honiton team exerting a great deal of pressure. Honiton's defence, which continues to improve, snuffed out Creditor's attacks and from a turnover ball Lewis Glead scored Honiton's first try.

This was followed by scores from Ben Deam, Harry Shepherd, Jake Williams, Rhys Phillips and Charles Corr.

Charles Corr was named Honiton's player of the match for his herculean efforts in the loose.

PERRY STREET LEAGUE

Champs shaken up by four-goal Town

CREWKERNE Town pulled off one of the best results in the second round of the Somerset Junior Cup with a 4-0 win at Somerset County League side Weston St John.

"I gather they were unbeaten last season when they won promotion and I think they were a bit shocked at the result but we played really well," said Crewkerne boss Nick Murphy.

"The Somerset Junior Cup is the biggest we can win and while the Perry Street League is our priority and making sure we stay in the Premier Division, it would be nice to have a good run in this competition.

"I have reached the semi-finals but never got to the final so it would be great to go all the way. But it is a tough cup to win as there are some very good sides involved."

An Ed Butcher double and further strikes from Jamie Spurdle and Barry Hayne sealed victory while goalkeeper Dale Wood had another outstanding game.

By KEVIN FAHEY

sport.pulmans@tindlenews.co.uk

Also in the Somerset Junior Cup, reigning Perry Street League Premier Division champions South Petherton, who have made a disappointing start in the league, brushed aside Baltonsborough 5-1.

Jodie Bovey scored twice and Adam Bourne, Lee Richards and Rich Hebditch also got on the scoresheet.

Meanwhile in the Dorset Cup, Perry Street Premier Division leaders Lyme Regis had to work hard to beat Alderholt 2-0 after being taken to extra time.

"They weren't a bad side but we showed the desire to win the game in extra time having hit the bar and the post in the opening 90 minutes," said manager Robin Townsend.

Dominic Rowe put Lyme ahead in the first period of extra time and only a brilliant, last-ditch tackle by Will Swales denied Alderholt an equaliser. Steve Batey wrapped up the win.

In the Devon Intermediate Cup, inform Millwey Rise cruised to an 8-1 thrashing of Dawlish. Marc Jenkins and Mike Knight both scored twice with Sam Dibling, Matt Lewis, Ashley Phillips and Callum Garrett completing the scoring for Shane Featherstone's unbeaten Division One side.

In the league, Perry Street Reserves claimed their first Division One win of the season with Jason Newbury (two), Joe Carbin and Kev Rowson scoring in the 4-1 win at Norton.

"This win will give everyone a boost and now I have set a target of six points from the next three games," said Perry Street boss Nick Govier.

Netherbury went top of Division One with a 5-0 win at Barrington, with Ben Brook grabbing a hat-trick and Ali Kamara scoring twice.

"I was really happy with that performance," said manager Andy Loudon.

In Division Two, Charmouth recorded their first win of the season with a 4-0 triumph over Hinton St

George, with goals from Simon Smythe (two), Scott Meyers and Matt Pie.

"It was nice to get that first win at last," said joint boss Gerry Bearpark.

Crewkerne Town Reserves stay top after a 5-0 win over Chard Rangers. Paul Gold sparked with a hat-trick with George Miles and Mike Treynor also scoring.

Chard United extended their 100 per cent start to stay top of Division Three, with Rob Milson, Ricky Anderson and Marco Quedas scoring in a hard-fought 3-2 win over Millwey Rise Reserves.

In Division Four, Farway United Reserves thumped Crewkerne Rangers 5-1, with player-manager Greg McCollum leading the way with two goals. Paul Merchant, Matt Hurford and Daniel England also scored.

Ian Banfield grabbed a hat-trick as Division Four leaders Chard United Reserves beat Hawkchurch United Reserves 6-2.

CARLSBERG SOUTH WEST PENINSULA

Graddon Vending Premier Cup
Topham 2 Ottery St Mary 0

DEVON and Exeter League side Topham's win was hardly the upset it may have looked on paper, as South West Peninsula League side Otters are undergoing a period of transition.

"We always knew this was going to be a hard season as we are starting from scratch and so it has proved," said Otters boss David Weeks.

"It didn't help that Jake Allen hit the bar and we had a perfectly good goal from Ben Vine disallowed for offside. Had that been allowed it would have changed the game because we are a bit low on confidence at the moment."

Matt Anderson scored in each half to secure the win for the Tops.

Sidmouth Town 4 Axminster Tn 1

Axminster boss Ray Self was looking for signs of improvement in this cup clash but the jury is out as the scoreline was exactly the same as when they clashed in the league in August.

Mike Stamp and Andrew Thompson put Sidmouth ahead before Jamie Chamberlain hit back for the Tigers just before half-time.

Sadly it wasn't the start of a revival as the home side stepped up their game after the break to score further goals through Tom Perryman.

SEATON YOUTH FOOTBALL CLUB

SEATON Town Under 10s were expecting two tough matches against Ottery St Mary and Feniton.

Seaton first played Ottery, who scored first. Seaton then came back at Ottery and scored twice, one goal for Reece McCabe and a great header by Edward Kenworthy to lead 2-1 at half time.

But Ottery scored twice in a second half of end-to-end football in which Seaton could not get the ball into the net again. Final score: 3-2 to Ottery.

Against Feniton, Seaton scored first with a long-range shot from Reece McCabe to lead 1-0 at half time. Feniton came out strongly in the second half and scored first, but from the kick-off Reece McCabe ran through the Feniton team to score again.

Alfie Tucker-Vincent, the Seaton goalie was then kept busy by Feniton shots at goal, but managed to keep them out with a good performance. Final score: 2-1 to Seaton.

FRESHA DEVON AND EXETER LEAGUE

HEAVITREE Social United ended their nightmare start to the season when they triumphed 4-0 at Budleigh Salterton in the Premier league.

The Heavies had endured seven defeats in succession but finally stopped the rot with goals from Josh Burrell, Shane Maddocks, Mike Bond and Dan Tavender to bring relief to boss Dean Lyncey.

Robins' manager John Pannell said he fielded an entire team of teenagers and despite the defeat was very proud of their performance.

Exeter University triumphed 2-0 against Alphington, with Andy Simmonds and Tooraj Esfandiaz scoring, and Willand Rovers beat Clyst Valley, 3-0 in the remaining Premier match. Dan Kenyon, with a penalty, Chris White and Barry Stanford got the Willand goals.

Exeter University won the only game played in Division Two against Wellington Town 2-1. Peter Beadle and Seb Spaniol were the scorers.

Division Two leaders Tiverton Town won 5-2 against another University side, with Ed Plackett, Alex Sanderson, Jesse Howe (2) and Jamie Treasure-Ruack scoring.

Westex Rovers jumped back to second place after beating Clyst Valley 4-1.

Lee Woodman grabbed a hat-trick for the Rovers.

There was mixed delight for the league in the Graddon Vending Premier cup with several higher ranked teams being cut down.

Beer Albion scored twice in the last 15 minutes to shatter Peninsula League Alphington 3-2 with Pedro Fontes scoring twice and Matt Rowson getting their other goal.

Down the hill at Seaton Town, visiting Exeter University were sent packing 2-1 despite having led at the break and missing a penalty.

In the second half Josh French equalised for the seashiders before Ben Ede grabbed the winner.

St Martins were victorious 4-3 on penalties after drawing 1-1 with Plymstock.

Tariq El-Zahri got the Saints normal-time goal but it was keeper Mark Rock who was the hero with two penalty saves.

Morchard Bishop had the easiest task with a 5-0 win at home to Torrington, with Dean Pidgeon and Jack Woodman both scoring twice and the Torries contributing a spectacular own goal.

Thorverton were edged out 1-0 by Teignmouth United, of the SWPL, and Hatherleigh Town also lost 1-0 to Premier rivals Newtown, whose Luke Hunt scored their only goal.

Barnstaple Town went out 2-1 in their derby clash at Barnstaple AFC. Dan Found scored for Town.

East Budleigh are also out after crashing 5-2 at home to Horrabridge. Sid Tuley and Tim Whiteoak had consolation goals.

Axminster Town Reserves produced one of the day's shocks in the Firewatch Devon Senior cup, beating Halwill 1-0.

Graham Tapp nabbed the decisive goal.

Elmore celebrated their first win and the taste of a goal when they knocked out Bampton 3-1.

Josh Uren, Sam Morgan and Rhys Parsons were the Eagles' scorers.

Honiton Town surprised Chagford 2-1, with Chaz Lane and Steve Rampall scoring, and Broadclyst were 3-1 winners at Tipton St John after extra time with Justin Yelsali, Jimmy Frost and Chris White getting their goals.

Tom Rowe whacked all four goals for Whipton and Pinhoe as they beat Holsworthy 4-2.

A magnificent seven out of seven for United

*Devon Intermediate Cup
 Axmouth United 4
 Beer Albion Reserves 1*

AXMOUTH made it seven wins out of seven with this cup triumph as Laurie Forino's side continued their excellent start to the new season.

Already top of Division Five of the Fresha Devon and Exeter League, Axmouth moved into the third round of the Devon Intermediate Cup to suggest another successful season is within their grasp.

"We have added to the squad that won promotion from last season and improved the overall quality," said Forino.

"We have more strength in depth and have a very committed squad of players from Axmouth and the surrounding area.

"It is going very well at the moment and long may it last."

In a hard-fought encounter against one of Forino's former clubs, Axmouth raced into a 3-0 lead after 40 minutes with goals from man-of-the-match Matt Ellis, Joe Berry and Asa Sandman.

Ellis hit the post just after the break before Mike Westlake pulled a goal back for Beer with a powerful header, but any hopes of a comeback were ended when Ellis grabbed his second with a cool finish after good work by Scott Dyer.

Promotion remains the number one target this season but Forino believes his team is good enough to go all the way in this cup competition.

"Exmouth reached the final last season and we were not far off them," added Forino, now in his third season in charge.

"We have the quality and we just need that little bit of luck as well but we can definitely compete and we'll go as far as we can in this competition."
